P Squared Invited to Speak at Houston Area Manufacturers Meeting

Houston, TX, May 2007 – P Squared Consulting has been invited to speak at the May Houston Area Manufacturers Group (HAM) hosted by Texas A&M. HAM is attended by the HR executives and staff of manufacturers in the Houston Area.

The topic selected is “The Key to Success – Complex or Simple, You Choose”. Core to the theme of the talk is the following:

- HR is a critical element of any organization today as you are responsible for the key differentiating factor for the success of your company – the human resources.
- Those human resources respond most positively when they feel they will benefit personally – WIIFM (“What’s In It For Me”).
- Everyone in your company owns and controls one or more process that makes up your business.
- Your people inherently want to improve what they do every day – they just don’t always know how.
- People need guidance and support from the top of your organization – they need to know that improving their processes is important to the success and growth of your company.
- When given simple, straight forward tools and methods to improve their processes – and given the ability to work together as a team – ordinary people can accomplish extraordinary things.
